1) I'd like to be remembered on a personal level as being fair in my decisions, and as one who could be called on in an emergency to help others.

Professionally, I'd like to be remembered as a District Attorney who increased the quality of representation of his office, one who was exceedingly accessible to all people.

Philanthropically, I'd like people to remember me as showing courtesy and kindness to all, and who treated others fairly.

2) I would invite some of the world's great religious leaders to appear together to see if they could reach a consensus on what constitutes a virtuous life.

3) My longest project has been gathering people together, developing our talents and overcoming our deficiencies, to forge the best possible team to provide public service at our District Attorney's Office. Seeing this project through is impossible without having the high caliber of leaders of the various units and divisions in the office. We have been blessed to have leaders of support staff, investigators, and attorneys who care about the people with whom they work and the people whom we serve. I'll take a true team of people who compliment each others strengths and weaknesses and who care about each other and the public, over a group of all stars any day.
